

East Town Approachability

The East Town Business Partnership is an inclusive association dedicated to fostering business and civic connections in the Downtown East/Mill District and Elliot Park neighborhoods. By supporting businesses, nonprofit organizations and property owners, we advance the potential of this thriving area. Through the promise of safe and productive networking environments, we offer members a wide-open door to new opportunities. It's good to belong to the fastest growing business district in Minneapolis.

Rise Up, East Town Partners

Since the East Town Business Partnership is funded by membership dues, your active membership and participation is critically needed to support the progressive growth of this emerging district. Join today and become an integral part of our partnership.

Choose Your Membership Level

With an East Town Business Partnership membership, you can make a difference in your organization, your community and yourself. Which level works for you?

Downtown Minneapolis Resident—$50

Individual residents seeking to invest in the district while networking with business and civic leaders.

Silver—$300

Supporters who value the networking opportunities and recognition received through membership benefits. This level is suggested for companies with 1 to 10 employees.

Gold—$550

Organizations who give added support for ongoing membership benefits such as database development, website and administrative services. This level is suggested for companies with between 11 and 35 employees.

Diamond—$900

Leading businesses that seek to enhance development goals and promote a safe and productive environment for our business community. This level is suggested for companies with over 35 employees.

Platinum—$2,000

Leading businesses that contribute and receive recognition as our highest level of supporters. Membership includes complimentary registration for one person to attend the 10 monthly business forums, mention and logo recognition at all business forums, and priority placement on the East Town Business Partnership website.

“Being one of the first major development endeavors in East Town, the Guthrie benefits greatly from the civic pride in our organization and in our building. As the area continues to evolve, East Town Business Partnership offers us a way to deepen our commitment to the community we serve.”

Joseph Haj
Artistic Director for the Guthrie Theater

“The East Town Business Partnership is a critical part of our communications and networking strategy, and enables Green Minneapolis to engage with a broad constituency. As we all look for ways to interact with our community to find partnerships, colleagues and customers, organizations like the ETBP are essential.”

Beth Shogren, Executive Director
Green Minneapolis

“We have enjoyed the collegial nature of the East Town Business Partnership members, and everyone’s commitment to growing a thriving business, residential and culturally significant community. We value the high visibility the Partnership has given us.”

James C. Selmer, Attorney
J. Selmer Law

“As this part of downtown grows in every way – with our new health specialty center and new housing, parks, restaurants, and hotels – it’s more important than ever to be a connected and cohesive community. That’s why we continue to be an active member of East Town Business Partnership.”

Jon L. Pryor, MD, MBA, CEO
Hennepin County Medical Center
